

What's Eating Your Collection?

Two-spot carpet beetle Attagenus pello

Adult beetle.

Size: 4-8mm

Shape: oval.

Colour: black with two white spots on wing cases.

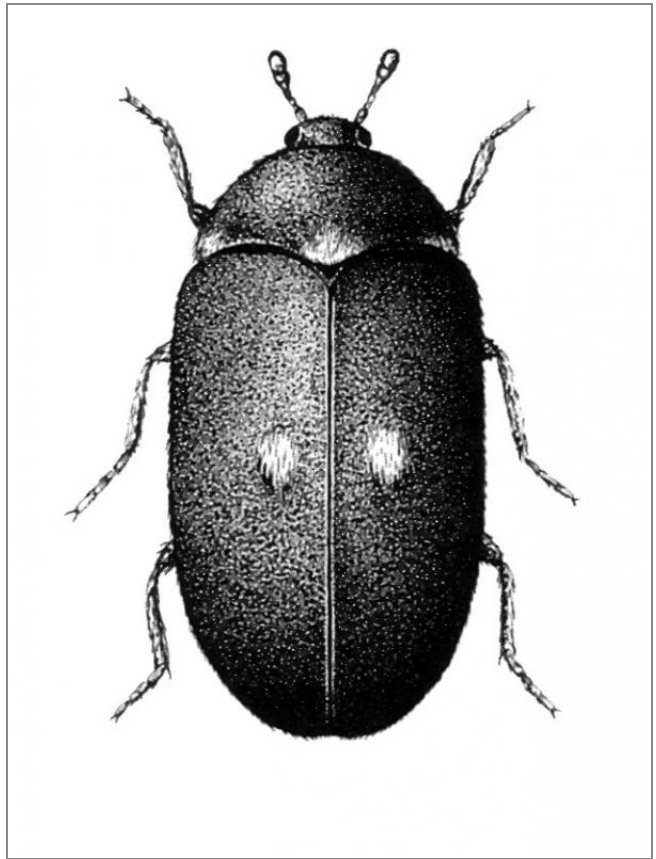

Antennae: long club.

Distinguishing features: two white spots on wing cases.

Often found on windowsills.

Larvae eat dead insects but are also pests of wool, fur, feathers and other animal protein. Damage is often with cast larval skins and gritty frass.

They are more common in historic houses than museums.

Related Objects

Attagenus larvae and cast skins on trap

Brown carpet beetle or Vodka beetle Attagenus
smirnovi

Hide or leather beetle
Dermestes maculatus

Two spot carpet beetle
Attagenus pello larva